

Frank Alderman, MD, is currently an Executive Partner at Shore Capital Partners, serving as Lead Director of Kerix, a membership medicine platform and a Lead Director of Shore's Specialty Pharmacy Infusion Platform.

Frank was a founder and the former Chief Executive Officer and Chairman of MedExpress Urgent Care, a division of OptumHealth. In founding the company in 2001, Frank and his team sought to provide a customer-service approach to health care and address the need for access to high-quality, affordable, patient-centric care. Under his stewardship, the company experienced exponential growth and success while maintaining its focus on providing a best-in-class patient experience. MedExpress joined Optum, a division of UnitedHealth Group, in April 2015. The company grew to operate ~300 neighborhood medical centers and worksites across 30 states, serving millions of consumers each year.

In 2012, Frank was the recipient of an Ernst and Young Entrepreneur of the Year Award and was also awarded Ernst and Young's Venture Capital Award of Excellence. In 2014, he was inducted into the West Virginia Business Hall of Fame and was also selected to be a member of WVU School of Pharmacy's Centennial Hall of Fame. In 2018, Frank was awarded the Urgent Care Foundation Outstanding Achievement Award by the Urgent Care Association of America in recognition for his industry leadership as CEO of one of the most successful urgent care organizations in the country. Formerly, Frank served as Operating Chairman for Veterinary Emergency Group (“VEG”). Frank is a White Sulphur Springs native and holds both a bachelor’s degree in pharmacy and a medical degree from West Virginia University. He completed his residency in emergency medicine at WVU and obtained board certification. He and his wife, Jayna, have two children and one granddaughter, Sadie.
